Rev W. O. Nuzum of the Methodist church was the speaker of the afternoon and delivered a most interesting talk on The Bible as Literature. Rev. Mr. Nuzum spoke of the age of the different books, and their value as examples of poetry and epics, confining his remarks wholly to the Old Testaent. He read several passages in ex emplification of his remarks and the talk proved of exceptional merit.

Serious Woodland Fires.

One of the worst forest fires in the history of the town has been raging in Lisbon. Acres of land and cords of wood have been burned. Buildings have been saved only by strenuous work. The telephone line known as 39 was out of commission in the afternoon as the poles were humand and noon as the poles were burned, and details could not be learned. There was a fire in Pachaug in the afternoon between the George Wood property and the cemetery. Another one in Canterbury added to the smoke which hung over the homograph all day. ung over the borough all day.

Reappointment Gives Pleasure. It was with great pleasure that the residents of the town learned that Rev. Samuel Thatcher is to be returned as paster of the Methodist church. He and his family are held in the highest regard and their removal from town would be the cause of general sorrow.

The Middletown Press says: The Rev. Joseph H. Seiferman, a native of this city, and a son of Joseph H. Seiferman, of 106 Lincoln street, who has been junior curate at St. Mary's church, Bridgeport, assumed the curacy of St. Mary's church at Jewett City last Thursday. A farewell reception was tendered Father Seiferman at Bridgeport Wednesday evening. A check for over $600 from the parishioners, a gift of $100 from his pastor, Rev. John F. Murphy: a solid gold crucifix and two gold candlesticks from the Immaculate Conception society, and a gold fountain pen and leather seclining chair from the altar boys were included in his gifts. Father Thomas P. Mulcahy, senior curate, made the presentation. The rooms were filled and there were many evidences of sorrow at the departure of the popular young curate. man.

Father Mulcahy told of the fine qualities of the young priest as a spiritual leader and a zealous worker and paid a glowing tribute to his work as a curate in the parish.

Father Selferman responded most feelingly and there were not many dry eyes in the assemblage when he finished. With his characteristic modesty he told the gathering that he was unaware of this reception. He asked the parishioners to pray for his success in his new field of labor.

As each guest left he was given a picture of the young priest as a sou-
